Local Document Reader

The opportunity

Companies work with long PDFs. Finding one small detail can take time.

The idea

Local Document Reader lets a user upload a PDF, search it with normal questions, and see the source page for retrieved information.

Value

It can make document searching easier and help teams find requirements faster.

Limits

This is a proof of concept. Users must check important information in the original document.

Future work

OCR, stronger security, multi-user support, and better answer checking can be added later.
